MILITARY EXPENDITURES.

GEN. SHERMAN'S VIEWS—WHERE REDUCTIONS CAN BE MADE—INJUSTICE OF PRESENT ECONOMIC MEASURES—EXPENSES THAT CANNOT BE CURTAILED.

Gen. Sherman has written to the Committee on Military Affairs the following letter concerning the reduction and reorganization of the Army:

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ST. LOUIS, MO., Feb. 1, 1876.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of Jan. 21, 1876, proposing certain questions to which you invite answers, and I infer that you will prefer short, pointed replies, rather than a close discussion of subjects on which the preceding committees have already taken voluminous testimony.

First—What reduction, if any, can be made in pay and allowances of officers of the Army without detriment to the efficiency of the service? Answer—I think the present Salary bill for the Army legislated by Congress, and approved by President Hayes, should not be materially altered till the currency of the country comes to the gold standard, when all salaries could be reduced fifteen or twenty per cent.

Second—What reduction in strength and expense can be made in either arm of military service—cavalry, artillery, or infantry? Answer—I do not believe any company will result from a reduction from the present number or strength of the existing regiments of artillery, cavalry, and infantry, because of the necessity since the war of incorporating the remaining regiments into regiments to meet contingencies, for great distances and in small detachments. Even now, transportation is the great item of expense, resulting from the extent of our country.

Third—What economies can be made in the Corps of Engineers, Ordnance Department, Subsistence Department, Medical Department, Pay Department, Adjutant-General's Department, Inspector-General's Department, Bureau of Military Justice, or other of them? Answer—The staff corps, and departments have not all properties to the Army to which they are legislated to service, but on them devolve other duties, purely civil in their nature, or which they for which I do not profess to give an opinion, that I big to be excused from further answer.

Fourth—Would a reduction of pay to $1,500 to Second Lieutenants, and $1,200 to Second Lieutenants, mortgage be excessive? Answer—This question is a small matter. The expense of a Second Lieutenant, especially if he is a Second Lieutenant, is really little compared to what we spend in his work. He is a First Lieutenant.

Fifth—Would it be detrimental to the service to dispense with laundresses, and what amount would be saved thereby? Answer—As posts laundresses are supposed to wash the clothes of soldiers, for which they are paid by the soldiers, but which they receive a ration and courtesies. In the field they are out of place and in moving from one post to another they are the cause of expense in transportation. Laundresses could be dispensed with, and there would be a saving, but to what extent I can form no estimate.

Sixth—Is the forage ration should be reduced? Are quarters and fuel of hay and grain would it not still be sufficient for public animals? Answer—The grain and forage ration has resulted from long experience, and is not too much for work horses. Ask the livery stable men know from experience. Commanding officers of posts and quartermasters, when there is grazing, always take full advantage of it, or should, and this forage has saved is credited to the United States. The horses generally are the property of the United States, and it is to the interest of the service that his horses should be kept in good flesh.

Seventh—What is your opinion regarding appropriations necessary for forts on other lot locations of which you have known? Answer—All danger of an invasion of the United States by any European power has passed, therefore the fortification of harbor harbors is a matter of money. Cities like Boston, New-York, Philadelphia, New-Orleans, and San Francisco, that would, temporarily, be of value to a foreign fleet, should be prepared for defense, that is, fortified and armed—and all other points neglected, only providing in the arsenals guns, carriages, and platforms ready to be carried promptly to threatened points, to be covered by earthworks such as we improvised during the civil war.

Eighth—Would it not be practicable to consolidate the Quartermaster's, Commissary, and Pay Departments into one corps? Answer—Yes.

Ninth—What is your opinion as to the propriety of transferring the Indian and Pension Bureaus to the War Department? Answer—The transfer of the Indian Bureau would result in economy and efficiency.

I am not so certain as to the Pension Bureau as it might require too many officers to be distributed throughout the country as pension agents. The Army examples the Indian country, but does not the population, perhaps reside most of the pensioners, which these pensions could be paid by clerks from the principal commercial centres. (See inclosed copy letter.)

Tenth—Might not the Bureau of Military Justice be dispensed with without injury to the service? Answer—This bureau grew up out of the war. In my opinion it is better to detail an officer of the line as Judge Advocate for each court-martial, as it encourages the study of martial and military law by the younger officers, usually detailed as Judge Advocates. Lawyers introduced into the Army have not improved it. Since the war the measure of subsistence, which is the object of our laws, has been the technical justice of the sword.

Eleventh—Might not the office of Military Secretary be abolished without detriment to the service? Answer—This bureau grew up out of the war. In my opinion it is better to detail an officer of the line as Judge Advocate for each court-martial, as it encourages the study of martial and military law by the younger officers, usually detailed as Judge Advocates. Lawyers introduced into the Army have not improved it. Since the war the measure of subsistence, which is the object of our laws, has been the technical justice of the sword.

Twelfth—Might not the office of Military Secretary be abolished without detriment to the service? Answer—Yes.

OUR CANDIDATE.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

HON. JAMES G. BLAINE.

Subject to the action of the Republican National Convention.

Republican National Convention, 1876

The seventh Republican National Convention for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States will be held in the CITY OF CINCINNATI, on WEDNESDAY, THE FOURTEENTH DAY OF JUNE 1876, at 12 o'clock noon, and will consist of delegates from the several States, equal to twice the number of Senators and Representatives in Congress from each State, each Congressional District being entitled to one additional delegate, and the Territories and the District of Columbia being entitled to two delegates each. The following is the apportionment of the representation in the Convention:

[illegible]

The call then goes on to recommend that the several State and Territorial Committees see that only Union men, men who will support the nominees of the Convention, be sent as delegates, and that no proxies be given to men who are not Republicans in principle and who will not be found in the party when the time comes for the election of Electors in 1876. It also recommends the formation of Clubs in every town and city, and the dissemination of Republican literature, and the enrollment of every Republican voter in the ranks of the party. It also recommends the enrollment of every Republican who will pledge himself to support the nominees of the Convention, and the formation of Clubs of such men in every town and city. It also recommends the formation of Clubs of young men who are too young to vote, but who will be voters before the next Presidential election, and of those who have become of age since the last Presidential election, and who have not had the opportunity to join the party before. It also recommends the formation of Clubs

FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS—First Session.

WASHINGTON, April 8.

Senate.

The Senate was not in session Saturday.

House.

Public proceedings in the House to-day were limited to the delivery of speeches, which there were few listeners, either in the floor or in the galleries.

Mr. Lawrence of Ohio, led off with a speech in favor of a bill patronized by him relating to land patents. The bill provides mainly to indemnify lands in Ohio and Kentucky.

Speeches were also made by Joyce of Vermont in support of Republican measures, by Mr. Backer of Mo., in favor of Southern amnesty and against the National Bank system, by Messrs. Williams of Maine and Woodburn, of Nev., in favor of the Pacific Railroad, by Mr. Bidwell of Tenn. in favor of the repeal of the tax on tobacco, by Mr. Pierce of R. I., against Government subsidies to railroads, and by Mr Williams of Wis., in opposition to the adoption of official reports. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON.

The Forgery Charges Against Wright and Clapperton.

WASHINGTON, April 8. The Civil Service Commission charged with investigating the reason why the charges of forgery against Jerome Wright and Alexander Clapperton, late Pension Agents, were not arrested last month as intended, and why C. A. Williamson who had charge of the case was summarily dismissed on the night previous to his intended departure to Indian Territory for evidence, and why he is a confederate of Wright, sometimes referred to as the defrauded Indians, held a meeting 48 days ago Secretary Chandler stated that he knew nothing about the charges. Mr. Parks said there never had been a complaint made to him nor to his chief, so far as he knew. Nor is there a word in the testimony of any of the original informators or shareholders of the company, charging him with fraud or deception in the sale of the mine.

THE EMMA MINE.

Park Corroborates Mr. Schenck's testimony and pronounces certain statements made by Lyon false.

WASHINGTON, April 8. Before the House Committee on Foreign Affairs to-day, Tracy W. Park continued his testimony concerning the Emma mine business in London, the tally corroborated Schenck's statements as to what occurred during their interviews, and what was in the correspondence between them. He swore that Lyon's testimony as to a number of alleged conversations between himself and Lyon was utterly false, he never had any conversation whatever with Lyon in Utah or elsewhere in America, except once for a few moments at a Hotel in New York. The witness with equal positiveness swore several of Lyon's statements attributing to him certain remarks in London about his own business were wholly unfounded. Park admitted in detail circumstances attendant on his payment of an additional sum of $20,000 to Lyon and the reasons why he paid Lyon the sum. After Lyon had received $150,000 for all his interest, and subsequently on Stewart's return to America, Lyon came to him (Park) and threatened a suit against Stewart, to embarrass Park's operations by tying up the stock in the Chancery, Parke told him Court of Chancery, Parke told him plainly that he was aware this meant blackmail and asked him how much he wanted. Lyon thereupon said he had sold short 1000 shares of the Emma mine stock and would be ruined if he did not get $10,000. Park rejected that as he knew of Lyon's bad faith in this endeavoring to "clear" the market, etc., but in order to prevent illegal complications and injury to the company shareholders, he promised to give Lyon $20,000 more after he (Park) got through with his pending business. This he subsequently did, taking from Lyon a release and formal discharge of all claims against Stewart, the Emma mine property or any of the company's directors.

Assistant Attorney-General Gaylord testified that in looking over certain Cherokee Indian claims he found the name of William Blunt mixed up with some very questionable transactions in connection with Geo. Blunt, who was one of Williamson's bondsmen for the proper performance of his duty. He satisfied Chandler of these facts and told him Williamson was not the right kind of a person to be employed. Secretary Chandler, in reply to a question, said Ross' name was suggested by the Presbyterian Board, and others spoke to the President about it, who thought Ross would make a good man for the place.

Ex-Attorney General Williams testified that suits were commenced against Wright and he made diligent efforts to bring the case to trial. He was satisfied that there was criminal misconduct on the part of Wright. Williamson was employed to look up evidence and was considered very efficient. He was perhaps a little over-zealous and talked to outsiders too much about the case. Witness had never heard of the case referred to by Secretary Chandler in relation Williamson's transactions with Blunt. The civil suit in this district was tried and Wright was acquitted on a technicality. Criminal suits were still pending; the suits were very complicated and occasioned a great deal of labor. Dunlap Thompson, Clerk in the Interior Department, produced affidavits and papers substantiating the charges against Williamson and Williamson's reply to the same.

The League Island Investigation to be Secret.

PHILADELPHIA, April 8. The sub-committee of the Committee on Naval Affairs to investigate the alleged irregularities in the League Island Navy-Yard, were to have begun taking testimony here this forenoon, but did not, owing to the absence of Harris and Burleigh. The committee announce that the session will be secret.

The retirement of five professors from the Boston Dental College is announced, owing to a disagreement with the President.

McRay has addressed a note to the Committee having in charge the investigation of the League Island Navy Yard, in which he asks to be allowed to be present with counsel if anything affecting himself is introduced.

All of Pratsburg, part of Alexandria, Va., including fish-houses, salt vats, etc., was burned Saturday. Loss $10,000.

The Committee on Elections have decided by a strict party vote to give the seat in Congress held by Farwell from the 3d District of Illinois, to Lemoyne, the contestant.

General Babcock, before the House Judiciary Committee Saturday, said he knew nothing whatever about the late burglary, in which Whiteley's testimony of the previous day so strongly implicated him.

The N. Y. Sunday Citizen has a report that Tweed has purchased a house and is living in Havana.

A gang of tramps attempted to capture a train in Warren county, N. Y. After a severe fight they were beaten off and fifteen of their number captured and lodged in jail. A number of persons were badly beaten.

Wm. O. Avery, connected in St. Louis or being connected with the whiskey frauds, was arrested in Washington Saturday night and committed to jail to await the proper papers for his removal to St. Louis. his bail being forfeited.

Mr. Cambliss, the Board of Trade operator, supposed to have gone to California, and defrauded his wheat contracts, returned Friday night. He states he will settle up his account with as little loss to his creditors as possible and has no intention of going to California.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Cambridge Wins the Boat Race.

LONDON, April 7. The annual boat race on the Thames between the Oxford and Cambridge University crews took place to-day and resulted in a victory for the Cambridge crew. The time of the race was 20 minutes and 10 seconds, instead of 22 minutes and 10 seconds, as before given. Some reports by Cambridge flashed four lengths ahead of Oxford. There were the usual immense crowds to witness the boat race, and the river was kept clear for the contestants, only the judges and press steamers being allowed to move from their moorings. The weather was like an American May day. The betting was three to one in favor of Cambridge. Both crews were in splendid condition. The crews and their friends dine together this evening. A detailed account of the race says: On the start Cambridge got into a careless easy swing, pumping away like a machine. Shortly after the start she took the lead. The struggle along Chiswick reach was terrific, and just around the curve Oxford crew put in a tremendous spurt, rowing 35 strokes per minute. Cambridge responded with a brilliant spurt of from 37 to 38 strokes per minute. At the Soapworks Cambridge led by a length, but the struggle was renewed with fresh energy. As the rival crews approached Chiswick bridge the scene on the banks was one of the most exciting description. The Cambridge crew, meeting the bridge first, began to lengthen their lead, maintaining a long, steady and gradually creeping lead, and finally reached the goal, four lengths ahead.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE U. S. OFFICIAL POSTAL GUIDE, for April is a large number, and contains nearly 400 pages of useful information about postal matters. Besides two full alphabetical lists of all the post offices in the United States (arranged alphabetically by States), there are also lists of money-order and letter-carrier offices, tables of domestic and foreign postage, arrival and closing of mails in the principal cities, distances by shortest mail routes, etc., etc. In short, the Guide answers every question that one is likely to ask about postal matters, and is invaluable for all who make constant use of the mails. Published by H. O. Houghton & Co., Boston. Price 50 cents.

SANS SOUCI SERIES. Messrs. Scribner, Armstrong & Co., 743 Broadway, New York, have issued a prospectus containing the pleasing intelligence that they are about to begin the issue a new series to be known as the "Sans Souci" to be edited by the same gentlemen (Richard Henry Stoddard) who edited the Brie-a-Brac series, and to be uniform therewith. The series will consist of 12 volumes, price $1.50, and will be wider in scope, more curious in details and of greater variety than the Brie-a-Brac. Historical and biographical and covering important epochs in the civilization of modern Europe, will be turned to the best account in the Sans-Souci Series, the initial number of which will be published in a few days.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Judge Peters returned from Rockland last week.

Bryant's Minstrels have engaged Normbegia Hall for May 11th.

Prof. J. S. Sewell preached in the Unitarian church, yesterday forenoon.

The large doors on the Steamers' house have received a new coat of paint.

Capt. D. W. Stover, of this city has arrived in New York in fine condition.

Efforts are being made to haul the schooner that lies in the stream nearer to the wharf.

Notice the advertisement of a new firm and new goods among our special notices this morning.

A supper will be given at the Town Hall in Brewer next Wednesday evening by ladies of the Methodist society.

An interesting article on military expenditures will be found on the first page this morning.

We are informed that the Penobscot Medical Association will meet in City Hall, to-morrow afternoon.

The Bangor auxiliary to the Women's Board of Missions will hold their annual meeting next Wednesday.

The steamer City of Richmond will begin running three trips per week between this city and Portland as soon as the ice will permit.

The ladies of the Methodist Society of Orono, publish a card of thanks in another column, to all who assisted at their recent entertainment.

B. H. Beale Post, G. A. R., publishes a card in another column, thanking the Jamesen Guards and ladies and gentlemen who kindly assisted them at their late entertainments.

We desire to call attention to Messrs Pearl & Webb's advertisement in another column, where they offer to exchange for real estate or sell outright a good stock of millinery and fancy goods.

The house and lot at No. 61 Pine street was sold at auction last Saturday morning by R. S. Prescott, Real Estate Auctioneer, to Wm. B. Heath for $1,725. Terms, one-half cash and the balance in twelve months with interest.

Tower's saw mill in Brewer that was lately destroyed by fire, is being rapidly rebuilt. Last Friday the neighbors in that vicinity collected and went to work en masse on the building. The frame had already been erected, and they boarded and shingled the whole mill that day.

D. M. Stewart, Michael Hurley and James M. Bonsey, of Ellsworth, were before Commissioner Hamlin last Saturday morning charged with selling intoxicating liquor without a license. Hon. G. S. Peters appeared for the defendants. The hearing was continued until next Friday and Saturday.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH. Quite a large number assembled at the St John's (Episcopal) Church last Saturday afternoon to witness the baptism of five young people. The Church was crowded last evening, when eleven—mostly young people—were confirmed. Bishop Neeley delivered very able discourses yesterday, which were listened to by a goodly gathering of people.

A Bucksport correspondent informs us that J. Eg. Sherman, Esq., formerly of that place, was on the 17th of March last made a full member of the Society of Civil Engineers of France at Paris, considered the leading society of that profession in the world. The honor of membership is bestowed upon comparatively few and only to those who have distinguished themselves, as in the case of Mr. Sherman's improvements in the manufacture of iron and steel. He has spent the winter with his family in Paris and has been very successful in the results of his process.

THE CENTENNIAL. Messrs. Lund, Bros., of New York, have written to Mr. Hugh Dolan, of this city, offering him one of the Old Dominion Line steamships for an excursion from Bangor to Philadelphia sometime in the month of June. The steamship will accommodate 200 passengers, who will live and board on the steamer during the entire trip for the sum of $50. The excursionists will be allowed five days in Philadelphia and will leave this city so as to reach the Centennial Monday morning, leaving on their return the following Saturday. We learn that the arrangements for the centennial excursion by the steamer Stonington about the middle of August, are nearly completed, and will be given to the public in a very few days.

FROM KINGMAN. Last Thursday evening an entertainment was given in Kingman under the auspices of a society organized for the support of liberal preaching. The ladies manufactured some very nice articles, which sold well. Mrs. James Boyd furnished several mammoth doughnuts, one of them measuring 18 inches in length. After the sale of cake and fancy articles the company was entertained with the singing of old and familiar songs. An antique supper was then partaken of by a large number, the lady waiters being in costume. A social dance followed the supper. An abundance of good things were left from the supper, and they were served at a dinner the following day. The poor and needy were well provided for.

FROM ORONO. Our correspondent from Orono writes that the entertainment which was announced in the columns of this paper took place at the Town Hall last Friday evening under the auspices of the Methodist Society. The arrangements were in charge of able committees, and were successfully carried out. The time passed off pleasantly, and the occasion was one of thorough enjoyment. At a seasonable moment the company were invited to partake of refreshments, of which there was an abundance and a great variety. The following is the programme which followed the supper: Overture, by Citizens' Orchestra; Song, "Roll Jordan Roll," Amateur Quartette of Bangor; Song, "What are the little lips saying?" Selections by Orchestra; Tableau, scenes from Tennyson's Elaine; Vocal Duet, Nellie Coburn and Angie Chapman; Vocal Duet, M. E. Johnson and Z. B. Chapman; Selection by Orchestra; Tableau, "Sister, what are the wild waves saying?" Song, Echoes, Amateur Quartette; Song, "Dolly Day," Angie Chapman; Music by Orchestra; Tribute to the State of Maine; Finale by the Orchestra. All had their parts well committed and were warmly applauded. Little Miss Chapman is a great favorite with Orono audiences and was very warmly received. The Amateur Quartette, of Bangor, afforded the highest degree of satisfaction. One of their number being detained on account of sickness the vacancy was supplied by Mr. F. Clergue. The Tableaux were fine and the music by the orchestra was excellent. A goodly number were present from Bangor. The entertainment was most creditably a creditable affair.

TEMPERANCE MEETING. The Temperance Reform Meeting, held yesterday, under the auspices of the Club, was quite large and unabated interest pervaded the audience. Good remarks were made by various members of the organization, viz: By Ben Kimball, Esq., J. F. Mendenhall, B. E. Walker and J. H. Hussey. Mrs. Randall, of the Crusade, promised renewed and strengthened zeal for the work so apart for the women to perform. Joseph F. Snow, Esq., of this city, and J. H. Littlefield, Esq., of Houlton, spoke good words, and to the point in support of the moral reform work now going forward with such cheering strides. It is very gratifying indeed to struggling reformers to have the good wishes and the assistance of prominent and influential citizens. Wm. A. Langley, ex-Vice-President of the Club, was the last speaker: and to say that his remarks struck home to the heart would only be putting it mild. The large audience were intensely interested throughout. During the exercises Miss Hattie Rich sang the solo "Pull for the Shore" and was joined in the chorus by the choir and audience. Miss Rich's sweet singing is a pleasant feature of these meetings. Joseph Coffey, a bass soloist of great power, sang "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," and the applause being continued, he again appeared and sang "Angel Annie Ray." Miss Rich playing the accompaniment in both pieces. Several signed the pledge. The meeting closed by singing "Bethany."

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

APRIL (CIVIL) TERM.

APPLETON, Chief Justice, Presiding.

EZRA C. BRITT, Esq., Clerk.

RUFUS SMITH, Esq., Stenographer.

Saturday, April 8.

Messrs. M. Holdsworth vs. Mathew Lincoln. This action was brought to recover damages for diversion of water from plaintiff's mill, located in Kenduskeag village, the damages alleged in court at $1000, hereafter dollars. The plaintiff claimed under a deed given in 1824, and alleged that his mill had the second right to the use of the water; defendant's grist-mill with two runs of stones having the first right and that defendant's saw mill with third upon the dam, and he could not use the water when required for grist-mill and plaintiff's mill, that being so obstructed the defendant's saw mills used the water when it belonged to his mill. The defendant claimed that the plaintiff was entitled to only the amount of water sufficient to run a fulling mill, and that he was entitled to the water than was actually necessary for that purpose. That plaintiff was now using a much greater amount of water than he was entitled to and that no damages had been sustained by plaintiff. The plaintiff claimed that he was actually using less water than was required to run a fulling mill in 1820, and that he had sustained serious damages in his business for a period of six years. The case has occupied the court since Tuesday last, was carefully and ably tried and argued by D. Davis, Esq., of Corinth, for the plaintiff, and Parker & Spaulding, of Bangor, for defendant, and was committed to the jury at five o'clock last evening, when they retired for consideration this morning to agree upon a verdict for plaintiff for $500 damages.

The morning hour was occupied in hearing assignments for next week and at 2 o'clock the court adjourned to Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Police Court.

E. K. Cleaveland was before the court Saturday for embezzlement of soap from the firm of Stickland & Phillips. He sold the soap without authority and retained the money. The Court imposed a fine of $20 and cost. The case was appealed.

LETTER FROM REV. JOHN MCELRAY

AMES I. FELLOWS, Esq.

Dear sir: I have recently heard from an invalid of the great benefit derived from your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and having in many other instances found the most beneficial results from its use, I cannot but regard it as a blessing to humanity. I have used it considerably myself, and, at intervals during several years past, given it to some members of my family.

I have also recommended it to friends and invariably found it to be beneficial in those complaints for which it is especially recommended;

In bronchial and other chest affections, in arresting incipient consumption, and in lessening the distressing symptoms of the disease in its hopeless stages, as well as in cases of nervous debility, in giving tone to the system, it is undoubtedly a valuable remedy. I am, dear sir, very truly,

JOHN MCELRAY, Methodist Minister,

Newport, N. S. d&ewlw ap6

Stump speakers do not always tell the truth, they would tell it exactly if they said that Adam-ons Botanic Cough Balsam is the best remedy in the world for hoarseness, coughs, colds and affections of the throat, chest and lungs.

Mr. J. W. McIntosh, of Portland, Maine, writes: "For a long time I have been a great sufferer from bronchitis, for which I resolved to try your Pyrol Tar. The first bottle brought no apparent relief. After using the second, my cough was very much relieved and my sleep was free from that choking sensation which made breathing difficult and distressing. Now, after using a few bottles, I AM PERFECTLY FREE FROM EVERY TRACE OF MY TROUBLE. I believe it to be all you claim for it and much more." Your Druggist will show you these preparations.

LOCK UP YOUR VALUABLES in the Bangor Safe Deposit Vaults,—where they will be safe from FIRE and BURGLARS.

DR. SCHENCK'S STANDARD REMEDIES. The standard remedies for all diseases of the lungs are SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC, and SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and, if taken before the lungs are destroyed, a speedy cure is effected.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary disease.

The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs; nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills act on the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, the alkali of which it is composed, mixes with the food and prevents souring. It is food to the digestion by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and the Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood, then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold.

All who wish to consult Dr. Schenck, either personally or by letter, can do so at his principal office, corner of Sixth and Arch Sts., Philadelphia, every Monday.

Schenck's medicines are sold by all druggists throughout the country.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

The standard remedy for the cure of coughs, colds, influenza, bronchitis, hoarseness, asthma, whooping cough, croup, sore throat, diphtheria, difficulty of breathing, quinsy, pain in the side and breast, spitting of blood, liver complaint, bleeding of the lungs, and all diseases of the throat, lungs, and chest, including even consumption. It seems hardly necessary to dilate at length upon the virtues of this favorite remedy for all diseases of the lungs, throat and chest. It was introduced to the public by Dr. Wistar, nearly half a century since, and by the wonderful efficacy which it performed, gained an unmoulded and enviable reputation, which to this day it has fully sustained. From the gulf of the St. Lawrence to the shores of the Pacific, and in many countries abroad, there are few villages or hamlets without following testimonials to the rapidity and certainty of its curative effects. The proprietors, mindful of their responsibility to the afflicted, exercise the utmost care in the selection and compounding of the various ingredients of which the BALSAM is composed, and the sick are assured that the high standard of excellence on which it has popularly enjoyed, will always be maintained.

NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL. DR. MORRIS' SYRUP OF TAR, WILD CHERRY and HOREHOUND has never been known to fail in speedily curing Asthma, Cough, Cold, Croup, Whooping Cough, nor any diseases of the respiratory organs—and it does it too at once! It is not necessary to trust to a long time before you can discover its beneficial effects. It should not be classed with compounds put up by inexperienced persons, but is prepared by a regular graduate in medicine, and is always given satisfaction. Do not fail to give this great and potent remedy a trial. It will not and cannot disappoint you. Ask for Dr. Morris' Syrup of Tar, Wild Cherry and Horehound, and take no other. Trial size, 10 cents. Depressing Maladies.

Dyspepsia is usually chronic in its nature, and is a disorder of the nervous system as well as of the stomach, so that by sympathy of the brain, it frequently induces a degree of mental depression so completely akin to insanity. The surest way to banish the children of disease produced by the bitter, invigorating antidote to bodily irregularity and sickness, Nature's Stomach Bitters. A course of this great corrective tone promptly removes the malady above specified, and many others, and restores the cheerful glow of health in such a characteristic manner as to be recognized. It likewise imparts a vigor to the constitution which is its strongest safeguard against disease, and is best appreciated by those in failing health, and who are sick and consequently sensitive to the expression of what and benefit from the tonic. apr6 d&wlw

HOW VISITORS TO PHILADELPHIA ARE TO BE PROVIDED FOR.

We are in receipt of frequent pamphlets and circulars relating to the all absorbing topic at the present time, the celebration of the one hundred anniversary of our National Independence, at Philadelphia, this coming summer. Much of the matter is of little interest to the general reader, but the following extract from a circular will be read by all who may be contemplating a visit to the Exposition at any time during the season.—

The present hotel capacity of the city of Philadelphia is very far below the requirements for the year 1876.

Though the present accommodations are being rapidly increased by the erection of several new hotels, and the extension of nearly all the older ones, there will still be a large deficiency, to meet which the Centennial Lodging House Agency has been organized. This is an association composed of practical railway men, who early saw the necessity of measures which would bring the private dwellings and boarding-houses of the city under some comprehensive and harmonious system, whereby they could be utilized by the vast number of strangers arriving in the city and unable to find hotel accommodations. The object was two-fold. First, to prevent an excessive increase in the charges for lodging and meals during the continuance of the Exhibition, thus aiding it, and, second, to preserve the good name of the city for hospitality, by preventing the circulation abroad of reports which might deter some from visiting the city.

The Centennial Lodging-House Agency submitted their plan of operations to the Board of Finance of the Centennial Exhibition to the presidents of each of the great railways leading from the city, and to the Mayor of the city, which was approved, endorsed, and encouraged by all, and authorized to be carried into effect.

This association is now engaged contracting with the house-holders of the city of Philadelphia for their spare rooms—selecting only the best—and have already secured and arranged for daily accommodations for nearly 20,000 strangers, while it expects to increase the number of houses if its demand so that it will be able, if necessary, to provide daily, for 50,000 strangers in clean, comfortable houses, with rooms furnished equal to those of any hotel in the city, with two meals of a superior quality, at daily prices of about one-half those charged by hotels.

The plan of operation is as follows:—Coupons will be placed on sale at the principal railway offices in America and Canada, where excursion tickets will be sold to Philadelphia, while the coupons will be sold in Europe.

Each of these coupons will provide for one full day's accommodation, which does as to consist of a breakfast, with meat or ham and eggs, tea or coffee, two kinds of vegetables, &c., supper (or dinner) equally as substantial as the breakfast, and lodgings, in rooms well furnished, and with clean bedding (the same linen never being used by differ nt persons), parlor or sitting-rooms for use of guests, closets, &c., and in most cases bath-rooms, all without additional cost, the responsibility of the house in all cases being vouched for. An intending visitor to Philadelphia can purchase as many of these coupons as he may need for one day or one hundred days. Previous to his arrival in the city he will be met on train on his matter by what road he may come by a messenger of the association, who will locate him in one of the rooms at the disposal of the agency, and give him a card showing him how he will reach it, and have his baggage forward to him in the shortest possible time, either by street car or by special conveyance.

The coupons will be accepted by the proprietor of the house in payment for his accommodations, and if the visitor should have any unused coupons they will be redeemed at the central office of the agency.

Thus all who come will be accommodated in the speediest manner, without the slightest annoyance or confusion.

For the benefit of exhibitors and those who find a protracted stay in Philadelphia necessary, arrangements have been made to supply those who wish with permanent boarding accommodation at reasonable prices, many hundred houses under being already signed of such guests.

For those who may require in entire furnished house the agency is also prepared to act, and can supply them for those who may desire to become housekeepers during the Exhibition.

GREEN MANURING

Green manuring is a term under which is comprehended the application of plants and vegetables in a fresh state as manure, but it is especially applicable to the special ploughing in of those crops, cultivated expressly for this purpose. This is a practice of very ancient date, but fell into disuse on account of the facility with which other manures can be procured. It is a practice, however, from which much benefit may be derived, especially on soils that have been secured by repeated cropping, without adequate manuring. But, although it has always been found to be an excellent method of temporarily enriching land, it is not sufficient, of itself, to keep up the permanent fertility of the soil.

The reason this is the case is that plants, especially such as penetrate the soil to the same depths draw up these inorganic ingredients which lie in other sunk or naturally parted at a certain depth in the soil, and place them near the surface and within the reach of other crops when the plants are ploughed in. But by the constant practice of green manuring, the inorganic food contained in the subsoil becomes gradually diminished, and ultimately the supply of such food becomes exhausted both in the surface and subsoils.

Although green manuring may be occasionally of great service in drawing up inorganic food from the subsoil for the benefit of succeeding crops, yet other manures must, from time to time, be applied, otherwise the soil will become barren. When this system is followed, the plants, such as clover, buck-wheat are, should be ploughed in before coming into full flower, because the flowers give off nitrogen, consequently when the operation of ploughing is delayed until the plants are in full bloom, a considerable portion of this important constituent is lost. The depth of furrow should not exceed four inches, so that the air have access to the plants, to promote their decomposition, but at the same time they must be properly covered to prevent any of their constituent parts from being lost.

The most important mode in which soils are enriched by the addition of vegetable matter, and which, from its effect on the soil, exceeds all others, is the laying down the land to grass, &c. It is well known that soils which have become impoverished by a continual course of cropping, conducted in an improper way, have their fertility restored by being laid down to pasture, and even these soils which are under a proper system of management, and have a liberal supply of manure allowed them, and a liberal course of cropping followed, are still materially benefited by being laid down for two or three years in pasture.

The general opinion is that the good results of laying down land to grass for pasture are produced by the droppings of the animals enriching the soil, but the cause is probably, the large amount of organic matter added to the soil annually by the death of the roots and stems of the grass, and the decay of the roots when the field is ploughed up for tillage.

Experiments have shown the large amount of vegetable matter contained in the roots of grasses, and that different varieties of grass, &c., vary considerably as to the amount of matter derived from them. It has been found that in old pasture or meadow, broken up, the living roots left are equal to four times the weight of that year's crop. If a ton and a half of hay have been mown, then about six tons of vegetable matter remain in the soil in the form of roots. If a field of clover is ploughed up at the end of the second year, the quantity of vegetable left in the form of roots is equal to one-half of the whole hay that the clover has yielded.

It is a general rule that whatever causes an increase produce above ground, will cause a corresponding increase below the surface, in the shape of roots. Thus nitrate of soda, which produces a large quantity of hay, also causes a great increase of roots, which, when ploughed in have a beneficial effect on the succeeding crop. The burying of vegetable matter in the soil is one of the ameliorating operations of nature, from which man has copied the practice of green manuring.—E. M., in Western Rural.

To the Judge of Probate of the County of Penobscot.

The undersigned, guardian of Helen E. Brennan, daughter of Hugh Ann McGuire, Bryant, late of Hampden, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that said ward is seized and possessed of the following described real estate, viz: One undivided one-third part of one-half in the two working tenements of the Cram Block, so called, in said Bangor, on the easterly side of Hancock street, also one third part of a parcel of land commencing from Main Street, Westerly, and bounded on the N. Easterly side of Hancock street in Bangor, being part of same surveyed by J. Coleman for Wiggins Hill and Thos. Curtis, in the 1835. Being lots from No 1 to No 17 inclusive, it being the same described in a deed recorded in the Registry of Deeds for said County, from Thomas Curtis to Abigail C. Bryant.

That it would be for the benefit of said ward that said real estate should be sold, as I the petitioner in the capacity aforesaid, may be empowered to sell and convey the above described real estate at public or private sale, according to the requirements of law.

C. A. BOUTELLE, Editor.

In issuing the Forty third annual Prospectus of this ancient and popular journal, the Proprietors can feel, as, not to the contrary, of nearly half a century, to offer the same promise of the past, while they will continue to spare no effort to maintain and advance its high character.

The Leading Journals of Eastern Maine.

Having thoroughly refitted our establishment we have organized no effection for the Repository and Correspondence department, with facilities at our command hope to render our journals still more interesting during the coming year which will be

CROWDED WITH EVENTS

OF A NATIONAL CHARACTER.

In connection with the Associated Press, from which we receive all the dispatches by telegraph, we shall use every exertion to present the news of the day in the most condensed form.

Full Reports of

Local, Domestic and Foreign News,

Proceedings of Congress,

Of State Legislature,

Financial and Commercial,

Home Produce Markets,

Editorial Articles, Agricultural News,

Manufacturing Intelligence,

Selected Stories,

Choice Poetry,

Entertaining Miscellany,

The Latest Telegraphic News from All Parts of the World.

In all these departments we shall use every exertion to render our journals the most desirable and reliable family newspapers.

First Class Family Newspaper.

In politics the papers will continue to advocate and uphold the principles of the Republican party, while claiming to be independent in the highest and best sense of the word. Fearless and outspoken in its criticisms of all public officers and all measures tending to what they believe to be wrong, they will avoid intolerance and make the appeals to the understanding rather than to prejudice. The year about to open will be fraught of unusually important events, the results of which will have a lasting influence upon the future of our country, and upon the future welfare of every man.

GREAT PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

OF THE Centennial Year.

The celebrations of the Hundredth Anniversary of our National Independence will also be conducted upon a magnificent scale and the public will wish to be kept fully informed of the progress of these great events. It will be our aim to afford our readers the earliest and most reliable information in and to have only such courses and policy as will best promote the welfare of all the people.

HOME INTERESTS

as affected by the development of the resources of Maine, will receive special attention, and will also be carefully considered.

Agriculture and Manufactures in this State will be liberally encouraged. We shall avoid in from our columns everything of an personal character, and sensational matter as tends to give a thoroughly reliable paper which will be sure of A Welcome & Every Family Circle.

To advertisers but columns open one of the best fields in New England, our circulation being the largest of any paper in this section, among the best classes of the people and is our Daily issue affords the principal medium of communication within a large and constantly increasing number of readers throughout Central and Eastern Maine.

THE ONLY MORNING DAILY

East of the Konnebec,

OUR WEEKLY

is also the largest and best Weekly Newspaper in the State. Every number accompanied by a two page Supplement, making a paper of forty-eight columns, or one half larger than any other Weekly. It is a standard publication, with large and constantly increasing circulation among the most intelligent and thrifty of the population of Eastern Maine, and the small space devoted to advertising is eagerly sought by the best class of patrons.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE

LETTER CARRIERS

All letters can be delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of street and number of their residence addressed accordingly.

Persons having their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent to them by carrier on application at the street and number, but do not call earlier than 7 o'clock A. M. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the outtowns of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails—the down town boxes first, and the uptown boxes thirty min. before closing mails at the Office.

Hours of the Carriers' Window will be open for the delivery of orders from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 7½ to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 9 to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported at the office.

ENVELOPES.

No allowance will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left end upper corner of the envelope furnished by the Post Office Department, samples of which may be seen at the Office delivery window, who will render the information.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if not delivered within thirty days, or less, written or stamped, with the writer's name, post office and state, across the left end of the envelope, on the face only, will be promptly complied with.

The public are earnestly recommended to use Stamped envelopes with printed return notices, as the cheapest, most convenient, and most reliable means of insuring the return of letters to their owners.

Envelopes of the above kinds are kept for sale at the Office.

Stamped Envelopes.

Should be used to prepay postage. The use of such stamps is compulsory on all letters to be registered. Stamped envelopes are also required for all other letters, if the writer desires to secure their return in case they are not delivered.

DOMESTIC POSTAGE.

All Letters must be Prepaid—Letters for the Mails in the United States, Canada and Mexico, are uniform, a single rate. City letters, two cents; drop or single rate.

NEWSPAPERS.

After January 1st, 1875, all regular newspapers must be prepaid at the office of publication, at the rate of two cents per pound for each issue, or weekly papers or those published oftener than once a week, for a quarterly or more often than once a week, three cents. The same law applies to dealers.

Country papers, except those for carrier offices, if paper coming to its office, if published in County, are subject to postage
